

WOLF MILLING WAX™

The First Jewelry Wax Optimized for Use on High Performance Jewelry Milling Machines

Today's high speed 3D wax milling machines demand a wax that can withstand extremely high RPM's; possess the toughness to be machined into intricate, thin sections; and clean-up quickly and easily...and that is exactly what Wolf Milling Wax™ by Ferris® delivers.

Until now, available waxes were too brittle and easily broke or chipped when milled into thin sections. Possessing both high ductility and toughness, Wolf Milling Wax™ can be milled into the thinnest of cross sections with the most intricate details and minimal tool path residue. Wax patterns clean-up easily and burn out completely without ash residue.

When finished, wax models produced from Wolf Milling Wax™ exhibit a goldish tone that is both easily read and helpful in visualizing how the finished piece will look when cast.

Wolf Milling Wax™ by Ferris® has also proved to be an excellent hand carving wax as well!

Exceptional Results: Textures, Details, and Thin Sections!
